CONTEXT

The data relates to 'recordable crimes' under Home Office recording rules and indicates those offences that have been perceived as hate crimes by the victim or any other person. Crimes were recorded from 1st January to 31st December 2011 in all police forces in England, Wales and Northern Ireland.

Monitored categories are Race, Faith and Religion (FAITH), Sexual Orientation (SO), Transgender (TRANS), Disability (DIS), Antisemitism (ANTI-SEM) and use the agreed definition of Monitored Hate Crime - http://www.report-it.org.uk/files/hate\_crime\_shared\_definitions.pdf

The Police Service is committed to reducing the under-reporting of hate crime and would view increases in this data as a positive indicator, so long as it reflects an increase in reporting and not an increase in the actual incidence of crime which we strive to reduce.

CAVEATS TO DATA

Improvements in the way forces collect and record hate crime data mean that direct year-on-year comparisons can be misleading. Individual forces are better placed to reflect on statistical variation in their geographical areas. Comparison of this data with the findings of the British Crime Survey is the best way of assessing whether fluctuations represent better recording practices or variations in the actual numbers of crimes.

All hate crimes are included and these are not additional to general crime (i.e. all these crimes are also recorded in the figures for the relevant crime types, for example, robbery, assault etc.)

Forces have only been collating data for the five strands of hate crime since 1st April 2008.

2011 is the first year that this report includes offences recorded independently by British Transport Police

From 1st April, 2011 forces are required to report hate crime data into the Home Office as part of the National Crime Statistics and this will be available from the Home Office at the same time as this data, but covering the year from 1st April. (The Home Office Data will not include Northern Ireland but will include offences where more than one hate crime strand has been recorded as a motivating factor)

Data for non-crime incidents is held locally. They are not included in this data and not centrally collated by ACPO.

This data was revised in October 2012 following an adjustment in Herts and Northumbria.
