

A representative of the charity, Tell MAMA

Tell MAMA is an independent, non-governmental organisation which works on tackling anti-Muslim hatred. Its work is not influenced or wholly shaped by Government. However, it works with Central Government and criminal justice agencies to raise the issues of anti-Muslim hatred at a policy level and its work helps to shape and inform policy makers, whilst ensuring that an insight is brought into this area of work through the systematic recording and reporting of anti-Muslim hate incidents and crimes.

It also works to support victims and advocates supporting other religious communities.
